

Only available from MEYLE: Glow plug control unit kit for many vehicle applications including glow plugs

Control unit failure is usually caused by a defective glow plug, in which case, only replacing the control unit will not remedy the problem. On the contrary: the defective glow plug is likely to damage the new control unit too. This is why vehicle manufacturers always replace the control unit along with the glow plugs.

MEYLE supplies both the control units and the glow plugs in OE quality. We supply a kit containing the control unit along with the corresponding 3, 4, 5 or 6 glow plugs.

More control unit and glow plug kits covering other vehicle applications will be available shortly. The MEYLE kit comes with all parts necessary for reliable repair.

When replacing glow plug control units and glow plugs follow the manufacturer's specifications at all times.

The 2nd page lists the currently available kits. Here a few examples:
